The Holland Patent Chapter of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution have selected Jacqueline Mann, from Holland Patent High School, and Brianna Williams, from Remsen Central High School, as the recipients of the Good Citizens Award for the 2019-2020 school year.

Mann is the daughter of Joseph and Teresa Mann of Prospect. Williams is the daughter of Connie Williams of Remsen.

Each year the Holland Patent Chapter of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution select one outstanding senior from the Holland Patent district and one from the Remsen district to receive the annual award.

The Good Citizen Award is intended to encourage the qualities of good citizenship defined as dependability, truthfulness, courtesy, leadership and responsibility, according to the HPNSDAR announcement. A dinner will be held in May just prior to the schools’ senior awards night/graduation when they will receive their awards.
